

Master's Degree Program HUMAN RESOURCE MANAGEMENT

ABOUT THIS DEGREE PROGRAM

The Master of Human Resource Management (MHRM) program is designed to prepare students to be strategic and tactical HR management professionals within their organizations. Coursework, taught from the practitioner's perspective, focuses on applying HR competencies to real-world challenges and opportunities.

The MHRM program requires successful completion of 39 semester-credit hours. Total program length varies based on the number of courses taken per eight-week session.

Graduates of DeVry University's Keller Graduate School of Human Resource Management program may consider management and leadership roles in employee compensation, benefits analysis and administration, labor relations, training and development, and other areas of employee management or teaching at the postsecondary level.

TECH PATH

We've put technology at the core of this program. With TechPath, you'll gain a technology foundation through our experiential learning approach and build the applied tech skills that you'll need to function in the tech-driven business world. You'll also work through real-world business scenarios to be better prepared to tackle modern business problems.

ACCREDITATION MATTERS

Keller's Master of Human Resource Management program has achieved voluntary accreditation from the Accreditation Council for Business Schools and Programs (ACBSP, www.acbsp.org), demonstrating that it has met the standards of business education that promote teaching excellence.

The Society for Human Resource Management has acknowledged that the Master of Human Resource Management program fully aligns with SHRM's HR Curriculum Guidebook and Templates. More information on SHRM is available at www.shrm.org.
